

PROFESSOR PAMELA BEATTIE is Associate Professor of Comparative Humanities, University of Louisville. Her primary research areas include interaction amongst Jews, Christians and Muslims in the European Middle Ages. Other research interests are medieval studies with a primary focus on thirteenth and early fourteenth century religious and intellectual history; medieval literature; medieval Iberia; Ramon Llull: interfaith dialogue and polemic; crusade and mission.