

LGBTQ People in God's Promise

What Do Jewish and Christian Sacred Texts Really Say About Homosexuality?

Select biblical texts have been employed for centuries by Judaism and Christianity to condemn same-sex sex and sexuality. But what do these texts really say? This three-part series, created by The Salaam Network and hosted by Thomas Jefferson Unitarian Church, will explore what light contemporary scholarship sheds on the cultural context within which these texts were produced and, in so doing, begin to apply pressure to literalist/fundamentalist interpretations that exclude LGBTQ people from God's promise.

- DATES:
- Sunday, January 27th (3-4:30 p.m.): "The Jewish perspective," presented by Rabbi David Ariel-Joel (The Temple)
 - Sunday, February 3rd (3-4:30 p.m.): "The Christian perspective," presented by Kevin Karl (LCSW)
 - Sunday, February 10th (3-4:30 p.m.): "Bringing our communities together," discussion led by Rev. C.J. Wright (Rainbow Spiritual Education Center)

LOCATION: Thomas Jefferson Unitarian Church
4936 Brownsboro Rd, Louisville, KY

Thomas Jefferson Unitarian Church will introduce the series at their Sunday Service on January 13th from 11-12:15.
